How to Improve Relationships Utilizing the DISC Model of Human Behavior

Part I: What is DISC? How to recognize personality types.

Date: November 17, 2020

Kevin and Jenean Waterhouse

Time: 7:00 PM– 8:00 PM

The DISC Model of Human Behavior is widely recognized around the world as an effective tool to aid in interpersonal relationships and business productivity. Each of the four main personality types are distinctly different, and have widely diverse needs, wants, driving impulses and predictable reactions. This presentation will introduce the different personality types and help you recognize them in yourself and others. Knowing these traits will help strengthen familial bonds and aid in developing the habit of understanding and patience, rather than criticism and exasperation.
