

The Georgia Center for Resources and Support

presents

What Every Parent Should Know About Balancing Independence and Supervision with their Teens and Tweens

featuring

Dr. Natasha LaMarr, LPC, NCC

Date: March 18, 2021

Time: 7:00 PM– 8:00 PM

Description:

Parents will learn how to bridge the gap between safety and freedom. Supervision is critical in protecting a child but mental and physical privacy is also just as important. Learning how to meet your child where he or she is as it relates to balancing independence and supervision will create a high level of trust, independence and at the same time communicate respect. Parenting tween and teens requires a delicate balance between showing them that you trust them by giving appropriate space while at the same time being attuned to their needs. Parent will learn various techniques on how to build a healthy and meaningful relationship with their teen and tweens.

Click here to register

All Participants MUST register separately with different emails

For further information contact:
info@gacs.org or 404-929-0401

Receive a
1 hour training certificate

Families
First

